In managing his business based on the core values of honesty and integrity, Andrew Disney, Managing Director and owner, has provided tremendous support, enabling a smooth transition and ensuring that his customers of many years have minimal disruption in supply. Andrew is well known in the industry from the introduction of many new and innovative new products and brands in the hardware segments.

With common values, Taskmaster will strive to continue Andrew's legacy, to grow our market presence by continuing to source, develop and provide innovative high quality products at competitive prices. Taskmaster remains an independently owned Australian business with a mission to provide products and services that enable our retail partners to thrive and prosper in an ever-changing marketplace

Yours faithfully

Taskmaster Hardware Australia Pty Ltd
